Driving Forces Questions

Read the following suggested interview questions as they relate to the rewards/culture environment of the job. Modify the questions to be more job-specific and ensure all candidates are asked the same questions.

1. Objective: People who are driven by the functionality and objectivity of their surroundings.
 - How would you rank the importance of functionality and the opportunity to be objective? How do you utilize your unique objective side?
 - Within your work environment, what single event, problem and/or unexpected situation has the potential to throw off your balance more than anything else?
 - Describe how you would feel if you were to discover an organization you worked for was focused on the customer experience and did not understand the effects on tangible outcomes. How would you express your concerns?
 - Describe an experience where you worked in a chaotic environment. What was the impact on your performance?

2. Structured: People who are driven by traditional approaches, proven methods and a defined system for living.
 - Do you see the world as black and white or gray? Give an example when this was the case.
 - How do you feel about having consistent systems and proven methods in your work environment? Why?
 - How important is it to foster and protect principles and beliefs to ensure consistency throughout the organization? Why?
 - Do you sometimes feel that things would be easier and better if there were fewer rules and procedures? Please elaborate.

3. Collaborative: People who are driven by being in a supporting role and contributing with little need for individual recognition.
 - What role does being in control of a situation play in your job satisfaction? How important is it for you to control your work environment?
 - How important is advancing your position? Would you be interested in a job that gave you the opportunity to create your own path for advancement?
 - Are you more comfortable as a team leader or a team member? Why?
 - Are you able to go with the flow, or do you need to have a strategic approach? Give an example.

Driving Forces Questions

4. Selfless: People who are driven by completing tasks for the sake of completion, with little expectation of personal return.
 - What do you consider to be more important, completing a task or maximizing the resources involved in the process? Give an example when you did this.
 - How much do you focus on finances? Where would you like to be in 5 years? 10 years? Why?
 - What role does earning a significant income play in your job choices?
 - Do you take on a task based on the return on investment or for the sake of getting it done? Why?

Behavioral Questions

Read the following suggested interview questions as they relate to the most desired behavioral traits to perform the job. Modify the questions to be more job-specific and assure that all candidates are asked the same questions.

1. Interaction: The job requires frequent communication and engagement with others.
 - How do you handle frequent interruptions by other people? How about your response to people who ask you question after question?
 - Are you more comfortable with details or people with the big picture or with bits of data?
2. Competitive: The job requires assertiveness and a "will to win" in dealing with highly competitive situations.
 - How demanding are you of yourself and others? Do you think you are sometimes too demanding? Give me an example of a job situation where being demanding helped achieve the goal. Did it lead to other problems? Would others ever describe you as aggressive? Pushy? Why?
 - How important is winning to you? How do you define winning? Give me an example of a situation where you felt you were going to lose. How did it feel? How did you handle it?
3. Urgency: The job requires decisiveness, quick response, and fast action.
 - When faced with a deadline, how do you respond?
 - How important is it to you to have all the facts before proceeding? Give me an example of a time when you didn't have all the facts and you proceeded anyway. How did you feel? How did it work out?
4. Versatile: The job requires adapting to various situations with ease.
 - Are you patient or impatient? Give me an example of how you handle slower-moving people. Would you consider yourself to be opinionated? Strong-willed? Explain.
 - How important is it for you to be systematic? Describe a system you have set up, used and been successful with in any previous job you have had.
